

Toxic Indoor Plants and Flowers

Lillies

(all varieties and all parts of the lilly, including the water from the vase is toxic to cats.)

Giving and receiving flowers or plants shouldn't induce anxiety! If you're not sure whether your pet can be trusted around house plants, or if you're giving a plant or bouquet as a gift, please avoid the following toxic plants and flowers.

If you are picking out a bouquet, don't forget to check that the filler leaves and flowers are pet-safe too!

TOXIC PLANTS & FLOWERS

All types of Lillies, Tulips, Daffodils, Hyacinths, Carnations, Daisies, Kalanchoe, Eucalyptus fronds and Azaleas.

Hyacinths

Daffodils

Tulips

Bulbs

(Tulip, Daffodil and Hyacinth bulbs are toxic to cats too!)

TOXIC PLANTS AND FLOWERS

Any plant can cause gastro-intestinal distress if eaten, and it's always best to keep plants away from pets (for the plants' sake, and the pet's). The ASPCA provides a great resource for all your plant related questions.

Kalanchoe

Eucalyptus Fronds
(filler greenery in bouquets)

Azaleas

Carnations

Daisies